FACULTY

Bryan C. Markinson, D.P.M.

Bryan C. Markinson, DPM is currently Associate Professor and Chief of Podiatric Medicine and Surgery in the Leni and Peter W. May Dept. of Orthopedic Surgery of the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai in New York City. He is certified by the American Board of Podiatric Medicine. He also is an instructor in the Department of Dermatologic Surgery and Team member in the Skin Cancer and Melanoma Unit of the Tisch cancer center at the same institution. He is a former Fellow in the department of Dermatopathology at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, from Sept. 1993 thru June 1995, under the direction of W. Clark Lambert, MD, PhD. Shortly thereafter, Dr. Markinson founded the Podiatric Pathology service at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine. Dr. Markinson is a past president of the American Society of Foot and Ankle Dermatology, and has been a trustee of the Council for Nail Disorders since 2004. His areas of special interest are pedal melanoma, soft tissue masses, pedal dermatitis, melanonychia striata, and podiatric dermatological risk management.

Eric Seitelman, M.D.

Eric Seitelman, MD, FACS, Program Director of Icahn School of Medicine at South Nassau General Surgery Residency, is a board certified Surgeon with a specialty in Complex Surgical Oncology. He is a native of Long Island and trained in General Surgery locally spending a considerable amount of time where he now runs the Icahn School of Medicine residency. Dr. Seitelman completed his fellowship in Complex Surgical Oncology at Virginia Commonwealth University, and then became a faculty member at South Nassau Communities Hospital in 2012. At South Nassau which is now an affiliate with Mount Sinai, Dr. Seitelman developed an ACGME Surgical Residency Program which is now part of the Icahn School of Medicine. Clinically, Dr. Seitelman has established a thriving surgical oncology practice focused on the surgical management of melanoma, sarcoma, breast cancer and GI malignancies. He presents often at South Nassau's multispecialty tumor board since 2012 and runs many of the surgical conferences at South Nassau Communities Hospital. This allows Dr. Seitelman to work closely with medical oncologists, radiation oncologists, plastic surgeons, pathologists and radiologists, nurse navigators and genetic counselors to provide the best, most up to date management for his patients

William P. Scherer, D.P.M., M.S.

Dr. William Scherer is board certified by the American Board of Foot & Ankle Surgery. He has won numerous JAPMA Stickel awards for research on onychomycosis. He maintained a private practice in South Florida since 1991. Served 17 years as an adjunct professor at Barry University School of Podiatric Medicine. He is also the Senior Podiatric Medical Advisor for Bako Diagnostics.
